BILL:

That was a good, open letter in the road to rehabilitating your public image and CREDIBILITY as the OFFICIAL spokesperson for "Project SERPO," but I would NOT have mentioned anything about the "mysterious" packages you got,... now Wayne is going to bug THE SHIT OUT OF YOU until you reveal their contents,... wait and see!

You should ONLY have revealed that to ME! Earlier today, you said that you would have to "check around about the information" you got that you couldn't talk about.

What?! WHO would know better than ANONYMOUS about whether it's TRUE or DISinformation?! How do you know this information is NOT from the SAME guys in Arizona who set you up with that PHONY EBEN OBJECT posting?!

You shouldn't be "checking around," but should be sending it to me. The mere fact that you've got an ANONYMOUS source sending this material to you and my ORIGINAL ANONYMOUS has emphatically stated that the postings are at a STANDSTILL, pending the decision of an administrative law judge, should tell you something right there: That ANYthing you're getting is BS or at best highly suspect and QUESTIONABLE.

Just so you know, I'm forwarding this entire e-mail to the REAL ANONYMOUS so he can comment if he wishes -- I'm sure he will -- and I'll let you know what he says., OK? If you post this stuff, and it turns out to be BOGUS like that stupid "Eben object," it's going to be just that much more to extricate ourselves from the mess these multiple anonymous sources have gotten us in to! THINK before you do ANYthing

To Victor, Wayne:

Victor, Wayne -

Victor, this message is a consolidation and an acknowledgement after our long phone conversation this morning. Wayne, this message is cc'd here for your full information and clarification. You're welcome to reproduce it, if you do so in its entirety. Thank you for understanding that. As you read down I hope you can see how important this is and how important it is to be very straight with the presentation of this information. I don't have time to post this to anywhere else at the moment (Victor's list - impossible by webmail; website difficult to update using FTP access on a borrowed machine; forum access way to slow).

I'm waving the white flag here with considerable reluctance and embarrassment. The situation is complicated, as I've tried to explain at several junctures, and not all the data was on the table. I have to respond as the conclusions that are (now understandably) being jumped to are very harmful.

Rick Doty DID send me a FedEx package at Kelly's house back in January, but Kelly got slightly the wrong end of the stick - this was peripherally connected with Serpo and of some possible importance, but was NOT from Anonymous (and Rick is not Anonymous!). There are several "Anonymous" individuals - I think Victor was essentially correct about the team of six - and I will NOT be drawn on my understanding of their identities or locations.

The thing I'd been trying to keep concealed (an increasingly impossible task!) was that the information always came directly to my web server via FTP. Victor, you remember you forwarded Anonymous the password details back in early December for the uploading of the photos if and when they came. This is why I declined the offer of IP comparison - the information always came directly to the server where I'd find it and download it to my laptop. The truth is that I've never once received an actual e-mail from Anonymous... and if you read my words carefully in all my messages, I never once actually stated that.

I'm reluctantly prepared for the truth to be told simply to end the speculation and increasingly harmful rumor. I'd wanted people to believe that like you, I was getting the information by e-mail - but I'm not. This is why (frustratingly!) I have no two-way communication with Anonymous... the information is just simply arriving and I'm unable to ask him/ them questions except via Victor's list (where I asked the Q about the posting of the large Word document). It's also why I could not compare IP addresses... because I have none.

Does this mean that the Serpo story is a hoax? Absolutely not. The above is all about trying to conceal and protect identities in the face of an information-hungry public that is increasingly wanting for information about where all this is coming from... a desire which of course I understand, but which (as, Victor, you relayed to us back in December, from Anonymous himself) really doesn't help the cause of disclosure and is in danger of actually stopping everything in its tracks.

There are also issues, as we discussed, about the verification of the identities of the various individuals claiming to be Anonymous. This is beyond the scope of this e-mail and Victor, you and I need to find a way to address this together and in confidence.

Is Rick involved? Yes. He's been helping in various ways and has been very much a "team member".... as you know. Can he be trusted? Yes, absolutely. How is he feeling about recent events? We have a problem, as I explained.

He's got his head in a very black thundercloud and wants out. This morning I talked with him at some length and he was angry and adamant. He's had enough. (Do I know how he feels? You bet. But I will stay on my post here. I have no plans to quit. I believe this is too important. Having got this far, I'm in for the long haul... wherever it goes.)

Victor, I know Rick picked up your voicemail messages - he's also been very busy and has been in demand (he's not hiding who he is here). I've urged him to call you. He's too valuable a resource to lose. I fear we're now taking casualties in various forms.

To be more positive, here is something pretty interesting. Yesterday (as I have of course been hoping for some time) I received more information to release... and some not to. This came from an anonymous package left for me on the front desk of the Flamingo Resort at 11.19 a.m. on Tuesday morning. Conspiracy theorists note: this was several hours before Rick's plane arrived. The packet (a large US Letter-sized brown envelope, which I have retained) was hand-delivered and did not come in the mail. The desk had no name of whoever handed it in to be collected. It took a while for the message to reach me.... I only picked this up yesterday (Weds) morning. It could have been from any one of 500 people or more, all of whom knew I was here this week.

I won't have time to do anything about this for a few days (this weekend or later). One piece is more log entries (nothing too startling). Another, very interestingly, is a printed image of a sample of the Eben written language. I've not even had time to scan this yet and I don't yet know if I'll use this in my presentation tomorrow.

The information I've been ordered not to release is very different. It's quite something. I do fully understand that you would like to know what this is, Victor (for verification purposes), but I need to consider this very carefully. I too feel it's of great importance to respect the wishes of my source. It may even be a loyalty test, because this is the first time I've been given something like this and told not to release it or say what it was. So this all needs very careful thought.

More later, no doubt, as this all continues to unfold.

Best, Bill
